Claim Objections

Claims 9-16 are objected to because of the following informalities:

On line 11 of claim 9, the phrase "the stent having" is confusing with respect to the previous part of this claim because this same phrase was used in line 1 of the claim to recite numerous other elements (see line 1). For this reason, it is not clear how the previously recited elements fit in the context of set of limitations for the stent. In order to overcome this objection, the examiner suggests changing "the stent having" (on line 11) to --the stent further having--.

With regard to claims 9-16, the language of varying flexibility from one segment to another lacks antecedent basis from the rest of the specification.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 9-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kleshinski et al (US 5,902,317). Kleshinski anticipates the claim language where:

(1) the annular elements as claimed are the diagonal struts of wire (4) of

Kleshinski;

(2) the struts of the ends are longer and inherently more flexible containing two strut straight struts such that the claim language is met requiring "a straight strut";

(3) the straight struts of the non-end diagonal struts of Kleshinski are all the same length such that the language requiring "all the straight struts of an annular element are of the same length" is fully met; similarly, the peak portions and valley portions of the non-end annular elements are all of the same length as required;

(4) the "at least one connecting member" as claimed is at least one of the straight portions (6) of Kleshinski;

(5) the fingers of the end segments of Kleshinski provide greater flexibility; see column 4, lines 3-20, Figures 1 to 5 and column 3, line 45 to column 4, line 67.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 9-15 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Applicants keep alleging that the present claims are copied claims from US Patent 6,106,548. However, since the claims were substantially copied from the patent years ago, the claims have been amended such that they are now considered patentably distinct therefrom.

Conclusion

Applicant's submission of an information disclosure statement under 37 CFR 1.97(c) with the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(p) on December 14, 2004 prompted the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 609(B)(2)(i). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Conclusion

Applicant should specifically point out the support for any amendments made to the disclosure, including the claims (MPEP 714.02 and 2163.06). Due to the procedure outlined in MPEP 2163.06 for interpreting claims, it is noted that other art may be applicable under 35 USC 102 or 35 USC 103(a) once the aforementioned issue(s) is/are addressed.
